

From Your Search Committee – March 30, 2021:

Report to the Congregation: Discernment Continues

This month we held our third and final candidating weekend. As with the first two, we felt blessed with a candidate who brought considerable talents and skills to the table. The question for the Search Committee is one of match – how does each candidate meet (or not) the needs of our congregation as we have come to know them through the many months of discussions, surveys, cottage meetings, and in-person candidating time?

Last week we submitted to the UUA our ranking of the three candidates we met in February and March. The match process is multi-layered as search committees and ministers in search make preferences known. I am writing this report after my return home for our latest meeting to consider the options before us. More discussions are ahead with our UUA coach.

Following another period of discernment, your Search Committee will be making a presentation on Sunday, April 11, outlining where we are in the process. Until then, we ask for your continued patience.
